NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, MARCH 21.

Congness did very much as usual yesterday. The House refused to print a Report in fa-ver of Mr. Whitney's Pacific Railroad, indicating a decided opposition to that measure—an opposition in good part sectional and Southern. The remainder of the Session was devoted to squabbling as to the paying or non-paying of certain Clerks in the Departments. After wasting in discussion more than would have sufficed to pay them, we presume both Houses will vote the money required.

In the SENATE they had a Slavery debate, by way of variety, wherein Mr. Hatz made several good hits, and caught a very neat one himself concerning his participation in breaking up an Abolition meeting in New-Hampshire years ago, when it was even more Democratic to mob Abolitionists then it now is, and Hale was devoting himself to the faith and works of Democracy with the zeal of impossible to deny that the same evils oppress a rather green convert. Gen. Cass took upon himself the care and discipline of Gov. Seward a for the most part in resider degrees, but sometimes conscience in the matter of slave hunting, but apparently to little purpose. Nothing done.

to allow personal feuds and intestine distractions to paralyze their efforts and falsify their judgment country is divided, so that, although a decided plawas with one exception successful, yet three of the fair Members of Congress were chosen by the al-Bed Loco Foco and professed 'Free Soil' parties. One result of that alliance and its success is the election of an ultra pro-Slavery Speaker of the House, instead of a moderate talker and constant voter on the side of Freedom. The next was the organization of the Committees on the Territories and other subjects connected with Slavery, so that clothing, houses, education, respects hilty and happro-Slavery majorities on each supplent the Free Soil Committees appointed by the late White

The Territorial bills reported by the Whig Committee, last Congress, were all guarded against Slavery; those reported by Mr. Cobb's Committee will assuredly be silent on this subject. And Free Soil Whig votes in Connecticut, cast against the Whig candidates in favor of those commended as better champions of Free Soil, have done the business. They have in like manner secured a Committee of Ways and Means intensely bostile to any increase or readjustment of Duties on Imports with a view to the more adequate Protection of Home Industry. There are other points on which Connecticut, in like manner, blacked her own eyes out of them sufficiently to avoid a repetition of the Electors of Connecticut! you are to choose new State Officers and a new Legislature on Monday after next! By that Legislature, a United States Senator for six years is to be elected. Shall he be a friend or an enemy of Protection?-actively devoted to the Extension of Freedom or tamely acquiescent in the diffusion of Human Bondage Can you be gulled again by irrelevant babble about Gen. Taylor's three hundred slaves and such stuff, when the question to be decided is, Which of the two great parties into which you are divided will do most of what you would have done, and refrain from most that you would have undone? Look candidly and searchingly at the course and uttitude of the two parties respectively, and vote as your judgments shall dictate and your consciences ap

At all events, Vorg! It is inaction, neglect and apathy that kill. Every hundred votes absent from the polls will be a dead loss of fifty to the side of Justice. Freedom and Prosperity. Freemen of Connecticut, at home or abroad; fail not to be at home on the morning of the first Monday of April, and be sure not only to attend the polls on that day, but look out beforehand and see at the time that your friends and neighbors do likewise. We ask no more than a careful study of the questions at issue

Some time last October the publishers of the London Morning Chronicle set on foot a series of investigations into the actual condition of the Labering Classes in England. Their purpose was not | Constable, to establish any particular theory nor to make out a | Mal case on one side or another, but to ascertain and has daily occupied one or more of its ample pages great talent and admirable judgment, and has emgreat talent and admirable judgment, and has em-braced the metropolis and the manufacturing and stricultural districts, leaving few parts of England treaty made by Col. the Chrenicle bas, for above forr months, publishthe Chronicle bas, for above four months, published every day as much of them as would occupy about a page of The Tribune. While a great part of this matter has no special interest for American accepted, but resolution said on the table. of this matter has no special interest for American readers, parts of it are more painfully interesting than any romance with which we are acquainted, and the whole contains lessons worthy of careful attention on the part of thinking persons of every nation. For, if the relations of Labor to Capital ere essentially the same in every civilized country, it follows that they must everywhere tend to the same results, and that those results can only be accelerated or retarded by local circumstances, and the remains of former institutions and legislation. We presume that no one will refuse to admit the system of Labor to be the same in the United States as in England, France or Belgium, the being, here as there, carried on upon the wages to be being the states of the states o principle, and with personal interest and universal competition impelling employers to cut the pay of the employed down to the lowest point. It is true that England has pernicious institutions which we are free from; a public debt, a monarchy, a vast military establishment, and a swarm of pension military establishment establishment are severally swarp and a single swarm of pension military establishment estab onopoly exists there on the largest scale; still it exists here also, while Money-lending and tradlevy their contributions on Labor, with certainty as fatal and thorough as in any other country whatever. And while the demand for labor is among us so proportioned to the supply that, as a general thing, we are not reduced to the extremes of poverty and suffering which exist in Europe, and, at the present increase of our population, cannot be for a great length of time, it is still notorious that workers in our cities do not always find work to do, and are not always paid living the Philadelphia seamstresses, recently published in our columns, the facts efficited in connection the workmen at present standing out at Pittemechanics and manufacturing laborers, make it with equal intensity. Upon this point controversy is out of the question. The state of the working classes in England may then fairly be taken as a warning for ourselves; and if we are wise we shall not wait for the calamity to come upon us more

We propose, accordingly, to condense for the readers of The Tribune these minute and impartial reports of the Morning Chronicle, and shall very probably take occasion, in so doing, to enforce what seem to us the plain meaning and inculcations of the facts. We think it will appear from them that some of the current prescriptions for suffering society are ineffectual; that political economy as hitherto expounded by its most noted doctors, is not the most beneficial of sciences; that Free Trad pipers to the industrious, and that we must go deeper and wider with reform than has generally the evils which threaten, and justly threaten, the very existence of civilized society. Indeed, it will appear, unless we are mistaken, that so far is rom containing a sovereign remedy for poverty and pauperism and the vices thence produced, that trade itself must, as far as its votaries are oncerned, suffer abelition; that is to say, must cause to be a means of profit or of living on the labor of others, before those evils can be fully remedied Commerce, the Ownership of Land, Banking sey and Money-lending, and the Hireling system of Labor, must all be transformed from begin ning to end before a just condition of the productive classes, or of any classes, can be secured. This w perhaps be called crude speculation, baseless theorizing-possibly, even radicalism. For our part, we are not so anxious about names as about realities, and least of all subjects do we talk at random upon Labor. Let thous who doubt or dispute our positions give heed to the facts by which they are say-

The Pennsylvanian is perfectly correct. THOMAS JEFFERSON devised and drafted what is now inaccurately denominated 'the Wilmot Proviso' in 1784-fifty six years are-long before the Buchanans and Taneys had thought of pretending to be democrats. That their application of such epithets to Mr. Jefferson is politic or in good tasto, we do not affirm; but it seems to come very
